What is Speech Plasma?

Words and grammar dissolve in our mind like salt in water

The more concentrated the speech plasma solution is, the faster it dissolves new portions of words and grammar
