Vida Drąsutė

Kaunas University of Technology
Kaunas, Lithuania

Member of the Scientific Committee

Vida Drąsutė works in the main position as major coordinator in Multimedia Engineering Department in Faculty of Informatics in KTU.

She is graduated in Computer Sciences – master degree in Kaunas University of Technology in 2007. Since then she has constantly been working in the field where technologies are applied in education, also collaboration and coordination of European projects. At the moment she is continuing studies for the Doctor of Science degree (D.Sc.) (equates with a Ph.D) in Informatics Engineering in KTU and expected ending of doctoral thesis assertion is 2011 08.

Vida Drąsutė is a Board member of Lithuanian Distance and eLearning (LieDM) Association since 2010 01, till then she was a coordinator of Lithuanian Distance Education Network Infrastructure. She is experienced in formal and non-formal education improvement and development of e. learning possibilities, e. learning and tools for e. learning encouragement in educational institutions, organization of courses, e. learning infrastructure development cases, implementing the tasks for fostering e. learning processes within virtual environments, supporting educators and lecturing as lecturer in the university also in other institutions as invited teacher.

Vida Drąsutė is invited and participate in many national and international conferences as speaker and takes part in different courses for qualification improvement, publishes articles concerned with education development, the use and advantages of innovative technologies, their adaptation and improvement.