

Carolyn De Meyer

Institution: University College Arteveldehogeschool

Address: Kattenberg 9

Postal Code: 2600 Ghent

Tel: +32479479189

Country: Belgium

Email: carolyn.demeyer@arteveldehs.be

Web: www.arteveldehs.be

Carolyn De Meyer is a lecturer/instructor at University College Arteveldehogeschool.

She completed her Bachelors degree in German and Philosophy at Seattle University in 1992 and then continued to Belgium where she finished a Masters degree in Philosophy at the Catholic University of Louvain in 1995. In 1997 she graduated with a Masters degree in Germanic Languages from the University of Washington, Seattle. Since then she has taught English and German in a number of institutions of higher education in the United States, Germany and Belgium.

Carolyn De Meyer is currently a member of the English section in the Secondary Education Department at University College Arteveldehogeschool. She teaches future lower secondary school English teachers, is involved in the guidance and coaching of student teachers and works on course development.

Further, Carolyn De Meyer is involved in advancing intercultural understanding by creating student and staff exchanges between University College Arteveldehogeschool and universities in the United States.

She is also active in a movement to further integrate philosophy in the curriculum, working together with the University College Arteveldehogeschool focus group "Philosophy with Children and Young People", she has attended seminars and conferences, working with international organisations such as SOFIA—Network for the advancement of doing philosophy with children.