Roula Hadchiti is a master's student in administration and evaluation in education: management and planning at Université Laval in Quebec, Canada.

She has B.A degree in early childhood and primary education from Université Saint-Joseph in Beirut, Lebanon.

Roula Hadchiti has a great experience in teaching and educational activities as she held the position of elementary school principal and educational consultant in preschool and primary education. She became an expert in planning and management for school principal and gave several trainings on education.

This last experience had led her to make reflections on her practice as a school leader and made her develop the leadership dimension for school leaders.

To deepen her practice, Roula Hadchiti is working on mentoring school leaders to help them to develop on professional and personal level and give a big importance on the emotional styles of leadership and how they affect the way of management.

Currently, other than studies, Roula Hadchiti holds the position of Secretary general for the associations of students enrolled in higher studies (masters and P.H.D) in Université Laval and serves on the university council and the commission of studies.
