

Tânia Carraquico

Institution: Portuguese Catholic University - Porto

Address: Rua Diogo de Botelho, 1327

Postal Code: 4169-005 Porto

Country: Italy

Tel: +351-22-6196271

Email: geral@porto.ucp.pt

Web: <http://www.porto.ucp.pt>

Tânia Carraquico has a Law degree from the Law Faculty of the Lisbon University and a Master degree in Creative Industries Management from the School of Arts and the Faculty of Economics and Management at the Portuguese Catholic University - Porto, having developed her research work in the theme "Creative Education: for a successful creative economy - to develop skills and competencies? ".

Since 2001 she practices Law independently and has worked as a consultant on various public and private institutions – including, for about eight years, the Ministry of Science, Technology and Higher Education.

Alongside Tânia Carraquico has worked as Project Manager in several projects in the area of social inclusion and creativity.

Currently, Tânia Carraquico is the General Secretary at a private higher education institute, IPA – Instituto Superior Autónomo de Estudos Politécnicos (www.ipa.univ.pt), where she is co-responsible for the strategic educational plan, coordinating partnerships with other universities, public authorities, schools, companies, research centers, etc, and she coordinates all the academic and pedagogical work and the quality and evaluation system.

Tânia Carraquico has been often invited as a speaker or expert at Conferences to present her work and results relating the Creative Education to the development of the Creative Industries.

She is also founder and author of the blog www.creativeeducationportugal.com.