

Virtual Classroom Applications' Consulting Services

Olcay Saltık

Anadolu University Eskişehir (Turkey)

osaltik@anadolu.edu.tr

Abstract

Individuals to communicate with other nations in the globalized world of foreign language teaching is of great importance. Parallel to the development of information technologies in teaching foreign languages and the practices carried out in a virtual classroom applications, consulting services, has an important place. The purpose of this study was conducted in virtual classroom applications, consulting services, will demonstrate how it works and the importance of foreign language teaching.