

Mariana Esteves

Institution: Colégio Dom Diogo de Sousa
/ Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen

Address: Rua Celestino Lobo, 19

Postal Code: 4710-075 Braga

Country: Portugal

Tel: +351-91-81.82.041

Email: marianaestev@gmail.com

Mariana Esteves is an English, German and Spanish teacher at Colégio Dom Diogo de Sousa in Braga, Portugal. She is also a PhD student at Eberhard-Karls Universität Tübingen in Germany.

She graduated in English and German Teaching from Minho University in 2006 and in 2008 she got DELE C2 (Diploma of Spanish as a Foreign Language – Advanced). She also took several courses in Translation Studies and Voice-over.

Mariana Esteves has studied and worked as a teacher and translator in Portugal, England, Germany and Spain. She also coordinated Lifelong Learning European Projects associated to language learning and teaching as well as research on the same area.

She is a PhD student in the field of Applied English Linguistics and is currently working on the topic Collaborative Output Processing in Web-based English Language Learning Scenarios. She has been a speaker in several conferences and published various papers concerning this matter. Her main fields of interest are Foreign Language Learning and Teaching, CALL, CMC, Blended Learning and Web Collaboration.