Gabriela Chmelíková is a senior assistant at STU MTF in Trnava.

She graduated in Slovak language – English language teaching from the University of Comenius in 1985. Since then she has constantly been teaching Slovak and English languages both at secondary schools and various universities and institutions. In 2008 she accomplished her PhD in linguistics.

Gabriela Chmelíková, in cooperation with colleagues from other departments, annually organizes Student Research Conference. She also cooperated on the accreditation file elaboration for UNlcert® II and III levels in English for engineering study branches in the UNlcert® examination system.

She is a member of Slovak Council of CASAJC (Czech-Slovak Association of Language Teachers at Universities), now working as an auditing committee member.

Gabriela Chmelíková worked within several national and international projects, e.g. Development of Pedagogical Competences of STU MTF Students, Elaboration of Interactive Multimedia Textbook "Mechatronics" for Secondary Vocational Schools", etc.

Her professional interests include language and pedagogical competences, use of multimedia in teaching as well as reading and presentation techniques.
