

Amira M. Abdullah

Institution: Cairo University Faculty of Engineering, Credit Hours System

Address: Giza

Country: Egypt

Tel: +20-0182151080

Email: amira80@aucegypt.edu

Web: <http://www.eng.cu.edu.eg/>

Amira M. Abdullah is currently the course coordinator and instructor of Communication and Presentation Skills at Cairo University Faculty of Engineering, Credit Hours System. She has an MA in Teaching English as a Foreign Language from the American University in Cairo and a BA in English Language and Literature from Ain Shams University.

Amira M. Abdullah obtained the Foundation certificates in Written Translation and Simultaneous Interpreting as well as the Career Certificate in Legal and UN Translation from the Arabic and Translation department at the School of Continuing Education at the American University in Cairo.

She has been teaching undergraduates and adult learners since 2001 at several private and public educational institutions in Egypt. She has developed, designed and coordinated a variety of English, business & technical writing and presentation courses.

Amira M. Abdullah has delivered workshops and presentations on writing in a second language, avoiding and detecting plagiarism, using native speakers' corpora in teaching English as a second language, and evaluating computer-assisted language learning software.

Her research interests include educational reform in depending countries, democracy and education, impact of education on political participation, learner autonomy and life-long learning.