Małgorzata Świątek is the Director of the Jagiellonian University Language Centre, Krakow, Poland since the Centre was established in 2005. She manages the Centre staff of 120 teachers of foreign languages and administrative employees. Each year over 18000 students of the Jagiellonian University attend the language courses designed and delivered by the Centre.

Małgorzata Świątek graduated in European Sciences – Philosophy Department from the Jagiellonian University, Kraków in 2001. She started working with British Council in Poland before her University graduation. In 2001 she was a member of the European Language Year Committee in Krakow and a member of the Festival of Sciences Board. Until 2004 she coordinated the educational and cultural events of annual European Language Days in Krakow since the Council of Europe and European Union declared the year 2001 a year of languages.

Małgorzata Świątek is also a co-editor of 'Languages Dynamics and Linguistic Identity in the Context of European Integration', published in Krakow in 2002. In 2010 she was a speaker at the 3rd edition of the ICT for Language Learning Conference in Florence.
