Vesna Vulic is a senior lecturer at the Polytechnic in Pozega.

She graduated in English Language and Literature and Archaeology - from the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences at the University of Zagreb in 1980. Since then she has constantly been working in the field of English language teaching in secondary and tertiary education.

Vesna Vulic is a member of the International Association of Teachers of English as a Foreign Language and the Croatian Association of Teachers of English.

So far she has been involved in the Tempus Programme: Foreign Languages in the Field of Law (co-ordinator: The Faculty of Law, University of Zagreb, Grantholder: the University of Antwerp). The project activities she participated in included teacher training workshops, updating the existing and developing new foreign language curricula for law students, as well as training courses for lawyers at the Polytechnic in Pozega.

She regularly attends Annual HUPE Conferences in Croatia and IATEFL Conferences of English Special Interest Groups.

She is also involved in developing new English language courses to suit the specific curriculum needs of students of undergraduate and graduate studies of the Polytechnic in Pozega. Her special area of interest is the introduction of new technologies in teaching and assessing the English language.
