

Laura M. Hartwell

Institution: UJF – Grenoble 1
Address: Site Briffaut
Postal Code: 26000 Valence Cedex
Country: France
Email: hartwell@ujf-grenoble

Laura M. Hartwell has taught English at the University Joseph Fourier in France since 2003. She is currently a member of the laboratory LIDILEM at Stendhal University. She obtained a Master of Education at the University of San Diego in the United States and a Doctoral Degree in English at the University of Toulouse in France. She piloted the note-taking website Notable Science <http://elang.ujf-grenoble.fr/valence/pages/NotableScience/index.php> and the English for sport and physical education and other podcasts <http://podcast.grenet.fr/podcast-compact/physical-education-english-version-compact/>. She also contributed to the on-line English learning site Enigma Plus <http://elang.ujf-grenoble.fr/enigma/>. Laura Hartwell has researched self-learning, language evaluation and oral comprehension. She has published on these topics in several journals including SYSTEM. She is currently undertaking a corpus-driven analysis of published scientific abstracts.