

Marta Kopinska

Institution: University of the Basque Country UPV-EHU, Faculty of Arts
Address: Paseo de la Universidad 5
Postal Code: 01006 Vitoria-Gasteiz
Country: Spain
Tel: +34-945.01.30.00
Fax: +34-945.01.32.00
Email: marta.kopinska@ehu.es
Web: <http://www.laslab.org/marta>

Marta Kopinska is a PhD student investigator working at the University of the Basque Country (UPV-EHU), Spain, and a member of Language and Speech Laboratory investigation group (LASLAB).

She holds a BA in Ethnolinguistics from Adam Mickiewicz University of Poznan (UAM, Poland) and an MA in Language Acquisition in Multilingual Settings (LAMS) and an MA in Formation for Secondary and Language Teachers from the UPV-EHU. Formerly, she worked at the UPV-EHU as Polish lecturer.

Her research interests are: ICT (Information and Communication Technologies) and EFL learning and teaching, sociolinguistics, language attitudes and motivation, bilingualism and multilingualism, multilingual education, CLIL (Content and Language Integrated Learning), EFL and second/third language acquisition.

She currently works on her PhD project, supervised by Dr. David Lasagabaster (UPV-EHU, <http://laslab.org/david>), which is supported by a grant from the University of the Basque Country and focuses on the use of ICT in EFL classroom and attitudes towards ICT.