

Branka Visnjic

Institution: Aston University

Address: Aston Triangle

Postal Code: Birmingham

Country: United Kingdom

Tel: +44 (0)7792423795

Email: visnjicb@aston.ac.uk

Branka Visnjic holds a PhD in Applied Linguistics from Birmingham University and Belgrade University. Currently, her main interest is in teaching EAP/EASP, autonomous learning and student-generated learning materials.

Branka has taught English at all educational levels and sectors in two countries – the UK and Montenegro.

Branka works at Aston University Birmingham as a Lecturer on pre-sessional EAP courses - English for Medical and Pharmaceutical Studies and English for Business Studies. She has also been involved in various in-sessional programmes at Aston, such as General English Programme, Kansai Year Abroad, International Year Abroad, English for Postgraduate Studies, as well as Communication and Study Skills for Engineering and Applied Sciences students.

Previously, Branka taught various linguistic modules (English Lexis and Word Morphology, English Grammar in Use, Phonetics, Speaking Skills and Academic Writing Skills) at the Department of English Language and Literature, University of Montenegro. She also has seven years of experience teaching ESOL, EAL and Literacy, in primary and secondary schools, and coordinating Embedded Key Skills in City College Birmingham. In addition, Branka is a qualified Dyslexia Tutor with several years of experience in Further and Higher Education institutions in the UK