Ross Vaughn joined the Boise State faculty in 1973. He received his Ph.D. in biomechanics from Washington State University.

His primary research efforts have been in the areas of baseball pitching, tennis, and basketball free-throw shooting, and he has also made national and international presentations on the subject of problem based learning.

Dr. Vaughn has been teaching biomechanics (undergraduate and graduate) for over thirty years. During his tenure at Boise State he has served as head baseball coach (1973-1980), director of intramurals and recreation (1973-1981), graduate program coordinator (1992-1994), Kinesiology department chair (1994-2003), and he currently serves as the Associate Dean for the College of Education.
