

Timothy W. Taylor

Institution: The Hong Kong Institute of Education

Address: 10 Lo Ping Road

Postal Code: Tai Po, N.T.

Country: Hong Kong

Tel: 852-2948-7269

Fax: 852-2948-7270

Email: ttaylor@ied.edu.hk

Timothy W. Taylor is a senior teaching fellow in the English Department at the Hong Kong Institute of Education where he teaches courses including Introduction to Language Studies; Teaching Language Skills and Pedagogical Grammar; Integrating Instructional Technology in the EFL Classroom; and Teaching English through Language Arts. He conducts research in the area of the professional preparation of pre-service language teachers, including the practicum experiences of student teachers in Hong Kong secondary schools.

Timothy graduated from the University of Virginia with an M.Ed. in the social foundations of education and from the University of Massachusetts, Amherst with an Ed.D. from the Center for International Education. His first degree was in British and American literature. His areas of expertise include applied linguistics; technology in education; and curriculum reform.

In addition to 12 years in Hong Kong, Timothy has taught at schools and universities in the United States, Papua New Guinea and China.